

AWARD POLICY

LA MARTINIÈRE MODEL UNITED NATIONS 2025

Delegation Award:

The Twelfth Session of La Martiniere Model United Nations shall present a singular best delegation award, which will be decided by calculating as to how many and which award(s) a delegation wins on the basis of a point system, which is as follows:

1. Secretary-General's Best Delegate (if awarded)	-	10 points
2. Best Delegate	-	7 points
3. High Commendation	-	4 points.
4. Special Mention	-	2 points
5. Verbal Mention	-	1 point

Secretary-General's Best Delegate:

If the Secretariat decides to bestow this award, each committee shall have its two best performers, with the exception of the Ad-Hoc Committee of the Secretary-General which shall have three participants, compete for it in the "Fleury Martin Hour" named in honour of the father of the college's founder, Major General Claude Martin. This specific session, if held, will be convened in the last committee session allocated for day 3, i.e. the 9th of November. The delegates shall receive a background of the committee and the agenda. They are expected to be settled in and portfolios shall be chosen by lottery.

The delegate who wins this award shall not be eligible for any committee awards and the next ranked delegate shall be promoted to the higher award. Further details regarding the same shall be communicated to the delegates by the end of the second last committee session on day 3.

The secretariat reserves the right not to hold this specific gathering, if they deem so.

Delegate Awards:

Delegate awards are presented on the basis of delegates' overall performance over the course of the three-day conference. The Executive Board Panel for each committee decides which awards to give and to whom. Although there isn't a strict formula, awards typically go to delegates who are prominent in oration, lobbying, constructive arguments and drafting. The Secretariat reserves the right to amend the number of awards in each committee. The specific awards in each committee are listed below.
